SPECIAL NOTE

On some of these evenings, the entire work from opening the Lodge to closing may be carried out by a team from one of the recognised Lodges of Instruction. The date should be arranged between the Preceptor of the LoI and the Secretary of Emulation Lodge of Improvement.

EMULATION WORKING AND EMULATION LODGE OF IMPROVEMENT

The Emulation Lodge of Improvement for Master Masons first met on 2nd October 1823, and was first sanctioned by Lodge of Hope No 7. In 1830 the sanction was undertaken by the Lodge of Unions, now No 256, which Lodge has remained the sponsor ever since. The Lodge was formed for Master Masons only and worked, in its earliest years, only the Masonic Lectures – “always commencing with the Lectures in the 3rd degree, and taking the other lectures in rotation as time will permit, and are worked according to the custom of the Grand Stewards’ Lodge” Memorial to the G.M., 1830. The early minute books of the Lodge are no longer in existence, but the following extract from the Freemasons’ Quarterly Review in 1836 gives an account of its work and aims:-

“About the year 1823 several Brethren considered that the Masonic lectures were not worked in Lodges upon a sufficiently regulated system, and that if those whose attainments as working Masons placed them as a prominent authority were to meet together and to work efficiently, they might be the means of effecting much improvement. They accordingly met, we believe, in Wardour Street, pursuant to a general notice in the public papers, which advertisement created a considerable sensation in the Craft. Some members of the Grand Stewards’ Lodge, hitherto the only authority for a recognised system, felt that it was necessary to watch the proceedings. Some Grand Officers, with Brother E. Harper, the Grand Secretary, also attended. The several chairs, from the Master to the Outer Guard were all filled with the most practical and experienced Masons of the day; and we have the authority of a Grand Officer for stating, that never was there so perfect an illustration of the ceremonies and lectures ever before manifested. The visitors separated highly delighted; amongst them the lamented Peter Gilkes, who so highly approved of the proceedings, that in about twelve months afterwards, he joined the lodge, and supported it until the time of his death.”

“At first the object was confined to the delivering of lectures, but afterwards the ceremonies were introduced which gave great satisfaction. Gratified as we are to bear testimony to the value and importance of this Lodge, and satisfied as we are of its influence on the Craft, we must enter our caution to the leading members of it not to relax from the discipline so unremittingly enforced by the institutors and which was especially observed by the late Peter Gilkes. We do not make this allusion without cause. Let the excellent Brethren to whose care the interests of the lodge are unanimously confided, feel no diffidence in correcting the passing errors. They should remember that error may become practice unless early checked. And we further call upon the junior members to weigh with scrupulous care the language which the landmarks permit, and not to be too ready to alter, in the slightest degree, what is in itself so excellent.”

The Committee did, in the past, refrain from sponsoring any book of Ritual but in 1969, appreciating that Preceptors and Officers do now learn their work from books, it sponsored a book, ‘Emulation Ritual’, setting out the words and procedure of the Emulation System. This book is now in its thirteenth edition, revised in accordance with the Grand Lodge resolution of June 1986. In 1974 it sponsored an edition of the book of Lectures, revised in 1994, according to the system in use at the weekly meetings.

WEEKLY MEETINGS

The Lodge of Improvement has met without a break since those days, soon after the settling of the ceremonies by Grand Lodge in 1816, and still meets to demonstrate, as closely as it has been possible to preserve it to the method of those early days, what has now become known as the Emulation system of working the Masonic Ritual. As the programme shows, the work each Friday is divided into two parts. In the earlier part the four ceremonies are worked weekly in rotation, the latter part being given up to sections of the lectures, except that on the 1st Friday in October and the last Friday in June a degree ceremony is worked in the first part and the ceremony of Installation is worked in the second.

The Working of the Lodge is controlled by a Committee which is elected annually. Those who work the demonstrations are volunteers who have been recommended by Preceptors of “Recognised” Lodges of Instruction. Their object is to give as accurate a rendering as possible of the Ceremonies according to the practice of the Lodge of Improvement which follows the method handed down since the formation of the Lodge, thus providing a standard and consistent demonstration of the Emulation ritual. The Committee arranges as required for a team from a recognised Lodge of Instruction to work the ceremony and lecture.

FESTIVALS

On two occasions in the year the usual practice is departed from. On the last Friday in February the Annual Festival is held when a distinguished Brother, usually a Provincial Grand Master, presides. The principal offices are filled by members of the Committee and selected Brethren assist in working sections of the Lectures. On this occasion the offices of Deacon and Inner Guard are filled by members of the Grand Stewards' Lodge in token of their surveillance of our working of the Lectures according to their custom. On the last Friday in June the normal work is undertaken by Brethren recommended by the Preceptors of "Recognised" Lodges of Instruction operating in the Provinces. On both the Festival occasions the Brethren dine together afterwards.

MAILING LIST

It is no longer the practice of the Secretary to maintain a physical mailing list. Communications from ELoI are circulated using electronic mail. Life members are entitled to receive all communications. Physical copies of the Annual Programme of Work and other communications may be requested from the Secretary in writing.

EMULATION FUND

In 1932 the Emulation Fund was launched with the primary object of providing office accommodation and clerical assistance in connection with the secretarial work of the Lodge. It takes the form of a permanent endowment held under a legally constituted Trust Deed, by Trustees who place the income at the disposal of the Treasurer for the general purposes of the Lodge work. The fund was founded as a long term project and has never been pressed upon the Brethren in the sense of an urgent appeal, but it has clearly made its own appeal and over the years more than £8,000 has been subscribed and invested; the income is beginning to be helpful and the Fund now has a place of its own in the activities of Emulation. These activities are ever widening and the expenses of the administration are now heavily increased, not only by the expansion of the work but especially by reason of the general economic situation. It is hoped that Brethren will keep the Fund in mind, and contribute from time to time as opportunity may suggest, and thereby assisting in gradually establishing an endowment adequate for the needs of the Lodge. Any further information desired may be obtained from the Secretary.

USEFUL INFORMATION FOR NEWCOMERS

Visitors are welcome to our meetings and Festivals. Emulation Lodge of Improvement is a Master Masons' Lodge. EAs and FCs are not eligible to attend and all attendees must be subscribing members of a regular Lodge.

On your first visit to Emulation Lodge of Improvement, unless you are being introduced by a member, you should arrive just before 6.00 pm to leave enough time to be 'proved' in the three degrees. If you are from overseas, you will need the appropriate paperwork as if you were visiting a regular Lodge in the English Constitution.

Dress code is 'smart casual' and you will need to wear a jacket and tie. If you do not have a tie, one will be provided. You will not need to bring any regalia as this is supplied by the Lodge. Only members of the Committee wear aprons denoting their rank. All other Brethren will be supplied with either a Master Mason or Past Master apron, as is appropriate. Gloves are not worn.

You will be asked to sign in and pay the appropriate dues, which are £1 for visitors and free for members. The payment is made in the ante-room, prior to entering the Lodge, and is acknowledged by the issue of a token - red for visitors and white for members. These tokens are collected in the Lodge by the Deacons, prior to Calling Off.

You may apply for membership on your first visit to Emulation Lodge of Improvement by completing an application form and handing it to the Secretary. The cost of membership for life is £5.

MORE USEFUL INFORMATION FOR NEWCOMERS

Ritual and/or Lecture books are NOT allowed in the Lodge room and prompting is strictly forbidden by anyone other than the Preceptor for the evening.

If you wish to offer yourself to occupy an Office in the meeting you should sit in the north east corner of the Lodge. If you wish just to observe, you should sit in another part of the Lodge. The Preceptor will select from those sitting in the north east corner, the workers he considers the most suitable. The Office of Master is usually pre-determined.

The Secretary or Assistant Secretary is admitted 'late' to demonstrate the procedure for that event.

Please note that it is only the Preceptor, sitting in the chair normally occupied by the IPM in a regular Lodge, who says SMIB, the rest stay silent.

The Lodge is opened and closed in all three degrees. The meeting is divided into two parts, the first part for the Ceremony and the second to work a Lecture Section.

Emulation Lodge of Improvement is a 'demonstration Lodge' and, as such, demonstrates each of the Ceremonies, in rotation, as near as possible to the standard laid down in the original working prepared by the Lodge of Reconciliation and approved by Grand Lodge in 1816.

RECOGNISED LODGES OF INSTRUCTION

There are, across the country, a number of Lodges of Instruction which undertake to teach the ritual according to the method demonstrated by the Emulation Lodge of Improvement whose Committee, being satisfied with that undertaking, has accorded them its recognition. There is a history of Lodges of Instruction teaching specifically 'Emulation' going back into the second half of the 19th century but the system of formal recognition of Lodges of Instruction probably began about 1903. Over the years the number of Lodges has fluctuated until the present day when they total 43. A Lodge of Instruction seeking to be 'recognised' has first to ensure that its Bylaws contain the necessary conditions and then submits its Preceptor in Charge for approval by test by the Emulation Committee as to his ability to teach Emulation ritual. Only if the Preceptor is approved is recognition accorded to the Lodge of Instruction. It will be seen that it is upon the Preceptor rather than upon the Lodge that the granting of recognition mainly depends.

It follows that thereafter, when circumstances make it necessary for a Lodge of Instruction to appoint a successor as Preceptor, the continuation of the recognition must depend on the approval of the appointment by the Emulation Committee. It is appreciated that in present circumstances this can well take some time to arrange. Only by the continuation of this arrangement is the Emulation Committee able to remain confident of the standard of work in the recognised Lodges of Instruction. Lodges overseas that wish to have an official connection are termed 'affiliated'. In their case, although they undertake to work by Emulation standards, it is impossible to arrange for the same testing as for recognition.

When referring to the following list of Recognised and Affiliated Lodges of Instruction, it may be helpful to understand the following:

- The number typed in bold type in front of the name of the LoI is the order in which that LoI became Recognised by or Affiliated to Emulation Lodge of Improvement.
- The name of the Lodge of Instruction is typed in bold type.
- The number given (in brackets) after the name is the Sponsoring Lodge number.
- “Meeting at” indicates the meeting place(s) of the Lodge of Instruction.
- “Meeting on” indicates the day(s) and time of meeting(s) of the Lodge of Instruction.
- The session “Oct to Apr” indicates the LoI meets from the beginning of October to the end of April.
- Preceptors shown in bold type have been Approved by the Examining Committee of the Emulation Lodge of Improvement.
